Inspiring Sermon By Rev. Dr. J. H. Riddell

On Sunday evening last, at the Methodist church a large congregation gathered to hear the Rev. Dr. J. H. Riddell, Principal and Founder of the Alberta College, Edmonton.

Dr. Riddell took for his text the words "For out of the fulness of the heart the mouth speaketh." He said the human heart was at the back of every word and deed. Therefore it was worthwhile for us to spend some time considering how the human heart may be put right; then if the heart is right the outgoings would necessarily be honorable and noble actions.

Alluding to the way the speaker pointed out that two of the holiest nations were the most advanced in education and civilization in the world. Dr. Riddell stated that during his visit to Leipzig some years ago he was very much impressed by the fact that every country in Europe as well as Canada and the States were represented at one small table. Every country sent many scholars flocking to Germany to study at the German Universities. All honor to Germany that they had appreciated the value and had so unflinchingly furthered the cause of education. If they had been satisfied with such a conquest they might have conquered the world. For there is nothing that has so much influence as the impression given through education to the youth of a country. But Germany was not satisfied with such a conquest, they wished to possess a longer coast line on the North Sea and that the country they coveted belonged to smaller and weaker nations only made it seem more within their reach. He contrasted the form of education given in Germany with that of Britain. In Germany the education was after the ordinary public school education of two kinds. A man was either taught to be a mechanic or he was taught a profession. If a mechanic he was not the most skilful mechanic that it was possible to be, while if he

Chas. L. Dunford Leaves To Join His Batt'n

Mr. Chas. L. Dunford, who enlisted some time ago with the 187th Battalion, left this morning to join his regiment, which is stationed at Calgary.

Mr. Dunford has been the editor of this paper since its first issue and has made during the two years of its existence, few enemies and many friends.

We can ill spare such men as Mr. Dunford from our midst. No social movement in the town has been complete without his able assistance. As Secretary of the Oyen Branch of the Red Cross Society, and as President of the Patriotic Society, Mr. Dunford has given unstintingly of his time and ability, and it will be difficult to find another to fill his place so well as he has done.

On 31st of the many friends we wish him "God speed" and a safe return, and that he may be as thoroughly hated by the Hun as he is loved by his friends.

WE ALSO MAKE THE "PRICE" LOW. YOU DO NOT HAVE TO WAIT UNTIL OUR READY-TO-WEAR GARMENTS "GO OUT" OF STYLE BEFORE YOU CAN "GET IN" ON THE LOW PRICES.

GLASS ARE KE OF THE REAR TRENCH OF THE WAR MANY MISLED BY OFFICIALLY CONTROLLED NEWS

Very Little is Known by the People of the Successes of the Allies
On the West Front, and if Real Facts were Revealed, they Would Shake Foundations of the Teutonic Empire

In "An American Report of Ten Months in Germany," Dr. T. Curtis, of Boston, Mass., writes as follows: "Early in August last I was in Berlin. The British-French offensive which had begun on July 1, outwardly appeared to attract little notice in Germany. Even in the highest military quarters it was considered 'business as usual.' The great mass of the shop windows of every street showed no change, and still show no change worth noticing. The maps speak," says the German.

One hot evening in Berlin I met a young officer whom I knew from a previous visit. I noticed he was ill and out of sorts. "What is the matter?" I asked. "I have been unexpectedly called to his regiment on the western front," he replied. "I said, 'He made that comment on the German side of the front. This English,' he said, 'are patting themselves on the back. They are final ridiculous attempt to make us believe to peace terms. My leave was cut short this evening.' We had a glass of beer. 'You have been in England, haven't you?' he inquired. I told him I had been there last year. 'They seem to be getting a new idea of the war than we thought,' he said. 'They seem to be learning to fight. My battalion has suffered terribly.'"

The next day there were other rumors in Berlin, rumors, some of them to the masses. It was suggested to me by a friend that I should go to learn the truth I should go to the front. I was told that the British-French offensive had been a failure. I was told that the German army had been victorious. I was told that the German army had been victorious. I was told that the German army had been victorious.

I asked another extremely well-informed friend if anything particular was happening in Berlin. He told me that the German army had been victorious. He told me that the German army had been victorious. He told me that the German army had been victorious.

Substitute for Rubber

Australian Chemist Discovers Compound to Replace Regular Article

A question asked in the legislative assembly of Victoria about steps to prevent a certain valuable Australian invention from falling into the hands of the "rubber ring" has directed attention to a very interesting discovery. Mr. John Flint, Esquire, of Melbourne, has been working for years with a view to discovering a substitute for rubber. He claims to have solved the problem. His compound, which has been patented, is said to be a perfect substitute for rubber. It is made from a mixture of various chemicals and is said to be as strong and durable as rubber.

Through a Tunnel To Verdun

Paul D. Cravath and Other Americans Took Chances in the Trenches

Just west of here, in the forest of Argonne, there is a remarkable mine tunnel, 45 feet underground, running right up to within 300 yards of the German trenches. It is the most hard-headed pressed point under Verdun, but through this tunnel reinforcements can be sent to the front without danger, relieving every two hours the men on the explosion. A French Press correspondent visited the spot, for the curious fact developed that the two officers in command were American residents, one a stockbroker in Alberta, Canada, and the other a bank official of the Franco-American Bank at Los Angeles, Cal. Both were born in France, and when the war broke out left their American business to fight for France. And now they are in full charge of this underground highway, leading up to one of the most desperate positions in the Argonne.

They claim that they speak English instead of French, and the commandant's headquarters is a big picture of Uncle Sam. Creeping through the tunnel toward the front, the Americans found a living party knocked their steel casques on the road, and plunged into the darkness. The tunnel was a narrow, low passage, and the Americans had to crawl on their hands and knees. The tunnel was a narrow, low passage, and the Americans had to crawl on their hands and knees.

SALES AND MARKETING SYSTEM FOR HANDLING OVER THREE THOUSAND COUNTRY ELEVATORS

Some Interesting Information Given by Mr. C. A. Dunning, General Manager of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Co., in Reference to Marketing Conditions in Prairie Provinces

There are in the three prairie provinces over three thousand country elevators operating at the present time with a total storage capacity of about fifty-eight million bushels. These three thousand, a large number, are owned by line companies, and about a hundred in Saskatchewan. These farmers' companies handled approximately one hundred million bushels of the 1915 crop and are increasing increasingly an important factor in the handling of the crop as well as the varying kinds of documents and in the movement of the crop from the country elevators to the ocean port.

Mr. Dunning stated that he had the opportunity of making comparisons between the handling of the crop by the Canadian Government Railway Commission and the handling of the crop by the Canadian Government Railway Commission. He stated that the handling of the crop by the Canadian Government Railway Commission was superior to that of any other exporting country.

Disabled Canadian Soldiers

What is Being done to Restore Their Ability

The Military Hospital Commission at Ottawa informs us that 2,381 soldiers were under its care at the beginning of this month. Of these, 423 were at Sanatoria for tuberculosis, and 1,958 at Convalescent Hospitals, 882 of the latter being outpatients—while 39 members of the force were in asylums for the insane. Of the 423 cases of tuberculosis, it may be added, almost exactly half were discovered in time to prevent them leaving Canada for the seat of war.

According to a statement prepared by the Militia Department, up to October 31st, 1916, the number of soldiers sent back to Canada because of medical unfitness was 6,208. Of these, 901 were suffering from wounds, shell-shock, or the effect of gas; 122 were insane; 213 were afflicted with tuberculosis; while the remainder, 1,880 were suffering from other diseases and disabilities.

All Canadians ought to know what is being done by the Military Hospital Commissions, acting on behalf of the whole body of citizens, for the restoration of their wounded defenders to a position of self-support and independence.

Every disabled soldier is medically examined on arriving at Quebec. If he is no longer in need of hospital treatment, he is sent home free of expense and discharged with a pension or gratuity according to the extent of his disability.

If he needs further treatment he is taken to the hospital or sanatorium where the treatment most suitable to his case is available, and, if possible, to the institution nearest his home. Men who cannot resume their former work on discharge from hospital are advised and enabled to take special training for new occupations. This is provided free of cost; and while the men are being trained the Dominion Government maintains them and their families.

Men needing artificial limbs are taken to Toronto, where these limbs are made and supplied without charge. Men with serious "nervous disorders" are treated specially in the Ontario Military Hospital at Cobequid.

Each Provincial Government has appointed a Commission to help discharged men in securing steady and remunerative work. The Dominion Government, and other authorities and employers, systematically give preference to returned soldiers when filling vacant positions.

The public can and should co-operate heartily in this urgently necessary work, by encouraging the men to take fullest advantage of the curative and educational opportunities given them, and afterwards by seeing that they get work. Local committees have been formed for this purpose in many towns, but much more has to be done in this way.

The treatment, most carefully carried out in accordance with the latest discoveries and the proved results of medical experience, includes many forms of strengthening exercises, often requiring special and costly apparatus; the scientific use of electricity, massage, and continuous baths for affected limbs with wise dieting and fresh air as a matter of course.

Occupation is as well as necessary and beneficial as rest itself in its curative and strengthening effect on body and mind. Classes are therefore held at hospitals, for instruction and practice in many arts and industries, such as carpentry and wood-carving, metal and leather working, typewriting and book-keeping, mechanical drawing and elementary engineering, gardening, bee-keeping and poultry-raising.

These all help to increase the capacity of the patients, and to lessen the effect of any injury they have received, by getting them into practice for such industries as they can profitably undertake. The medical and educational officers try first to discover what each man is most likely to succeed at, and then to fit him for it as thoroughly as possible.

It has been wisely decided that no man shall forfeit any part of his pension on account of his industry and enterprise in improving his own financial position.

Let our readers write without hesitation to the Secretary of the Military Hospital Commission at Ottawa, or to the Provincial Commission at the Provincial capital, asking any further information they may desire, or giving practical suggestions resulting from thought or experience.

In the Fall the Farmer's Fancy Lightly Turns to Thoughts of Ease EXCURSIONS

Now that the Farmer's big rush is over or about over, and the fruits of a year's labor begin rolling in, he is no doubt looking ahead with no little pleasant anticipation to a well earned rest. The Farmer's vacation time is approaching—almost farmers take a vacation if they do not, they should. Vacation time, of course, means a holiday and a change of surroundings. It implies a change of surroundings anyway. A change from the general routine, which most of us live, because monotony. Even a change of faces is sometimes anything but unrefreshing.

Take a trip—anywhere—anywhere—and put mention your intention to the nearest Canadian Northern agent. We have them all—the Service—Equipment—Dining Car—Standard Sleeping Cars—Newest and Best of Tourist Cars and Day Coaches—Electric Lighted, with every latest improvement, all of which with the convenience of the attendant make up a service that Canadians are likely to mention when talking to outsiders in a beautiful mood.

INSPIRING SERMON BY Rev. J. H. RIDDELL

those a profession he must be thoroughly master of that profession, but the character of the man himself was not considered worthy of notice.

In Britain the opposite idea prevailed. In our great colleges such as Oxford and Eton the great principal was taught that the first and most important thing was to be a man of honor and self-restraint. That it was most desirable that each pupil should be thoroughly proficient in the branch of study he took up. Yet if he should become the cleverest scientist of the day or the most successful physician and could be faithless to a woman or dishonorable toward his fellow man he was to be despised. Dr. Riddell pointed out how it was of the utmost importance that we had the right principal inculcated in our schools in Canada.

He referred to the war we were waging and in which his son had fallen. He said he hated war, no one could have more cause to hate it than he but he maintained that there were things that were worth while dying for and it was for these things we were fighting.

During the service a solo was creditably rendered by Pte. Chas. L. Dunford, and an anthem was eloquently sung by the choir.

Ladies of Sibbald District Hold Meeting

On Wednesday last a number of ladies from Sibbald met at the home of Mrs. G. R. Appleby to discuss plans for raising money to be used either as Red Cross work or in some other way to help our soldiers at the front. Twenty-one ladies were present. Mrs. Robinson was elected to take the chair, and Miss Appleby was recording secretary. After much pleasant discussion it was decided to call the new organization the "Sibbald Willing Workers," and to have a series of chain teas, at which ten cents would be the lowest offering. This money is to be spent in getting material to be made up at the meetings. There is no membership fee, but everyone who is a willing worker, and can pay ten cents is welcome.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. Appleby, president; Mrs. Stanley Cunningham, secretary-treasurer. One feature of the teas is that there must only be one kind of cake and one kind of sandwich, and either tea or coffee. Anyone trespassing this rule incurs a fine of 25 cts. After singing the National anthem, and repeating the Lord's prayer in concert the meeting closed. A collection was taken and $8.45 was realized.

Successful Social Given By The Ladies Aid

Last Friday evening a social was given in the Methodist church under the auspices of the Ladies Aid. In spite of the inclemency of the weather quite a good number were present. The Rev. S. D. Webster acted as chairman. A short programme was given interspersed with games. Among those who took part in the programme were Miss Jean Alexander, Messrs. W. Ballantine, F. Webster, Dr. Swartzlander and Pte. Chas. L. Dunford. The proceeds of the evening amounted to $12.75.

Conscription Demanded For Men up to Thirty Years of Age

Declares the Present Recruiting Methods are Weak

A statement drawn up by the Canadian military institute and approved at a meeting held in Toronto last Thursday evening after setting forth the belief that present recruiting methods have become ineffective, concludes:

"We believe that the government-in-council should enact regulations without further postponement and submit them to parliament for approval and endorsement, and that class one viz all men between 18 and 30 who are unmarried or widowers without children shall be enrolled immediately and allotted to production or training, as may be necessary."

Mail Christmas Gifts Early to Soldiers

The early mailing of Christmas parcels for the front is advised by the Post Office Department in an official memorandum. It says:

"In view of numerous enquiries as to the last date on which parcels can be posted to ensure delivery to overseas soldiers before Christmas, it is thought well to state, having regard to the irregularities in the Atlantic service and the possibility of congestion, that earlier parcels for overseas soldiers are mailed the better, if it is desired that they should be delivered before Christmas, this being particularly true as regards parcels for soldiers on the Continent, which should be mailed as early as possible, so that the greatest latitude will be afforded in order to ensure delivery before Christmas."

"In every case the mailing of these parcels should take place before the middle of the present month. It is possible that letters might be mailed as late as the last week in November, and be delivered to the overseas troops before Christmas, but letters should be mailed as early as possible in order to provide for all contingencies."

A One Man Tractor

The most powerful 3 Plow Tractor in the world. The Bates Steel Mule is the most powerful Tractor in the world of the three plow class.

With a draw bar pull on its plowing speed of over 3,900 lbs. it gives a reserve power to draw on which will pull its three plows through almost any kind of soil, at a good speed.

When this power is compared to the 1800 lbs. to 2000 lbs., that three plow tractors usually have at their plowing speed, it can readily be appreciated by comparison that the Bates Steel Mule not only is the most powerful three plow tractor in the world, but is so with a large margin to spare. And further more because of its transmitting its power through the ground to its draw bar by means of a "Crawler" instead of a wheel. This big power is available in the Spring when the soil is soft, and where under the same conditions the pull of a wheel Tractor might drop to less than 500 pounds.

The "Crawler," together with the Compound Lever Hitch, makes the Bates Steel Mule just as powerful a puller in the Spring when the ground is mellow and soft, as in the fall when the footing is dry and hard.

It does everything that horses do, and does it better, quicker and cheaper. It burns kerosene or gasoline. For full particulars write or see—
